WHEN I THINK

OF BEAUMONT,

I REMEMBER
THE

ARE A BRIDGE
NOW;
SO REAL,
SO MUCH
A PART
OF ME —

A CONNECTION WITH A LIFE
THAT HAS LEFT ME;
A REMINDER OF DAYS

I YEARN
TO RELIVE,

BUT CANNOT.

WOULD THAT I COULD RUN THROUGH THAT DOOR —

UP THOSE STAIRS —

BE

STUDENT
MORE.

THOSE DAYS ARE BEHIND ME.

CAN ONLY

TRAVEL THE BRIDGE OF MY MEMORIES.

I REMEMBER SINGING

"REACH THE SKY"

AND CRYING,
THINKING
WE HAD FAILED

BUT NOW I KNOW
I SMILE, FOR, AS INDIVIDUALS,

WE
NOT FAIL.

WORDS, TEARS
AND FRIENDSHIPS
WE HAVE SHARED
HAVE BUILT
BRIDGES
THAT WILL LAST FOREVER.

THERE IS A LAND OF THE LIVING,
AND A LAND OF THE DEAD,

AND THE BRIDGE
IS LOVE;
THE ONLY SURVIVAL,
THE ONLY MEANING.

PARAPET '70 IS DEDICATED

TO THE CLASS OF '71

WE BELIEVE
IN TOMORROW
WE BELIEVE
IN YOU

ONE WHO HAS TRAVELED

Seniors form an honor guard for the presentation of roses.

"No man is an island, entire of itself;
every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main; if a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a promontory were, as well as if a manor of thy friends or of thine own were; any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved with mankind;
And therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee."

(Devotions XVII)
John Donne

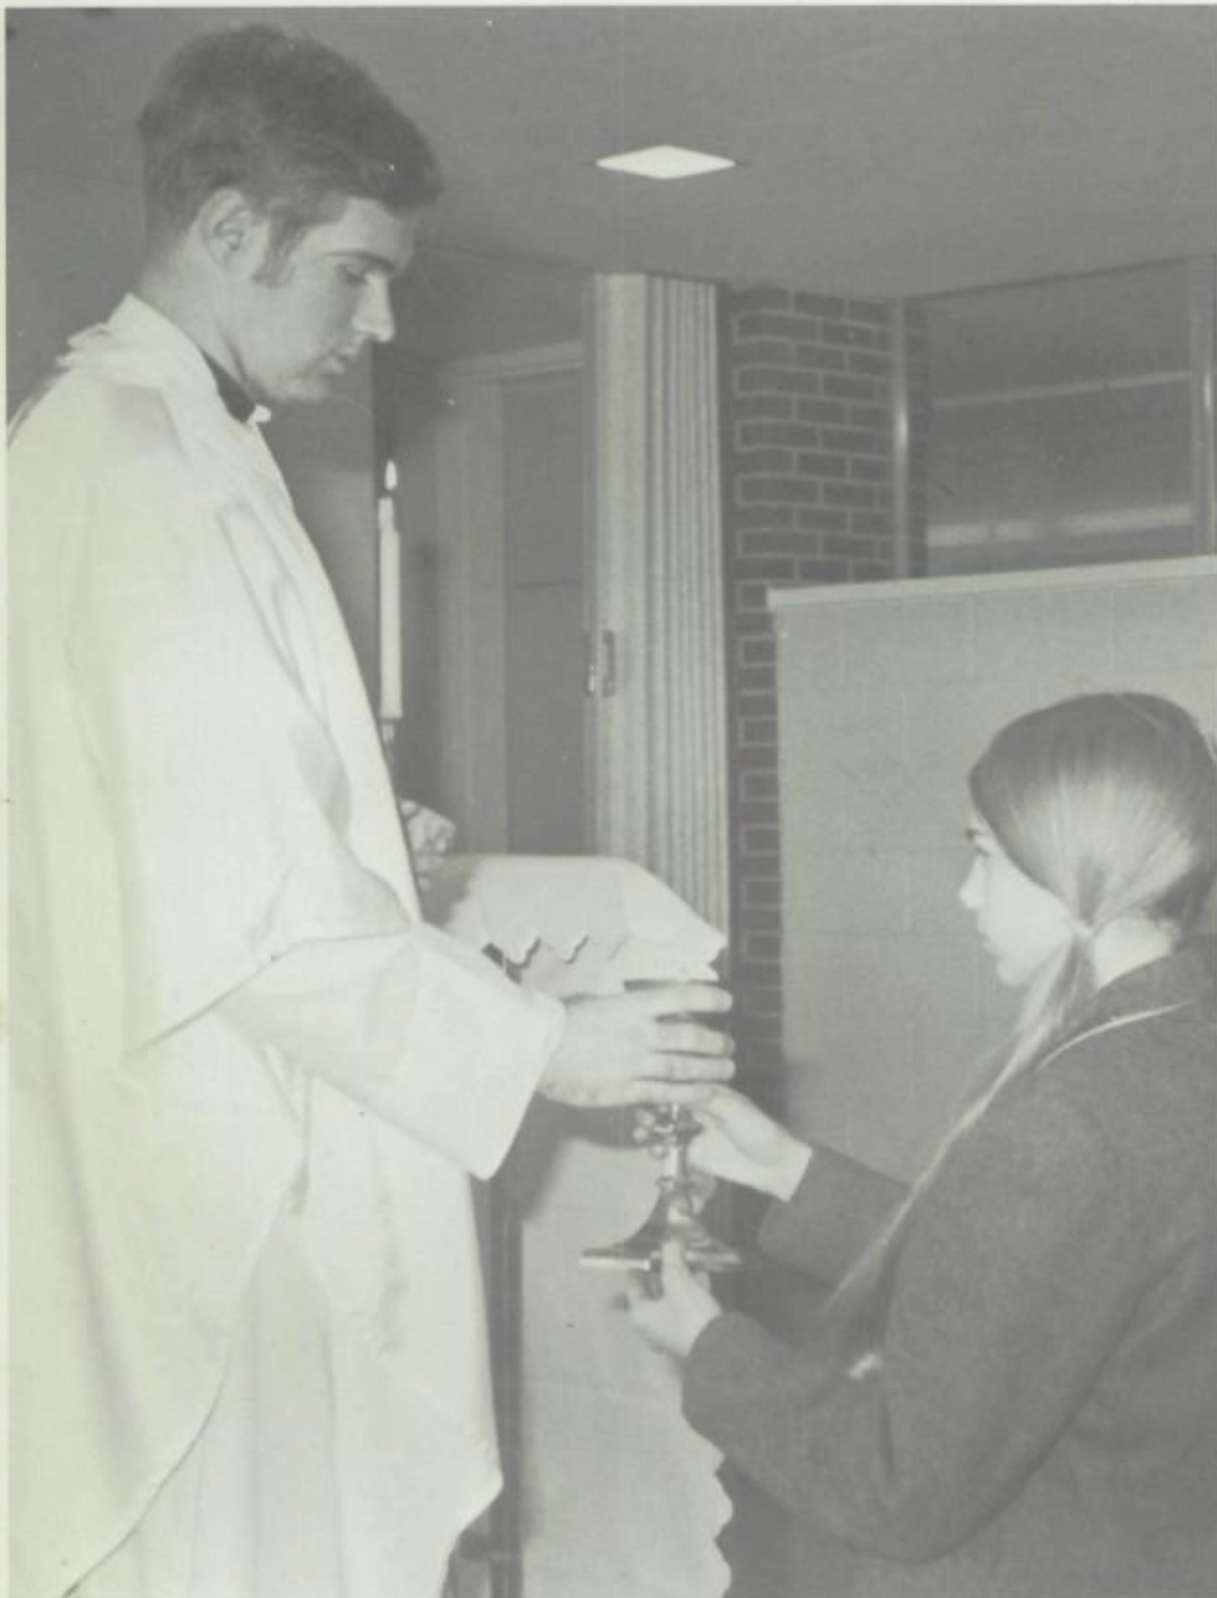

Seniors (then juniors) watch the dedication of Nancy's cherry tree.

THE BRIDGE: NANCY CATLIN

Death is never an easy thing to accept, especially when its victim is a classmate and friend. It's hard to believe a year has come and gone since we bid our last farewell to Nancy. Brief were her days among us and much too brief the times we shared, but her voice will never fade from our ears nor her love vanish from our memories. For it is said that when you part from your friend you grieve not, for that which you love most in him becomes clearer in his absence.

We, the Class of 1970, bid farewell to you, Nancy, and the youth we have shared with you.

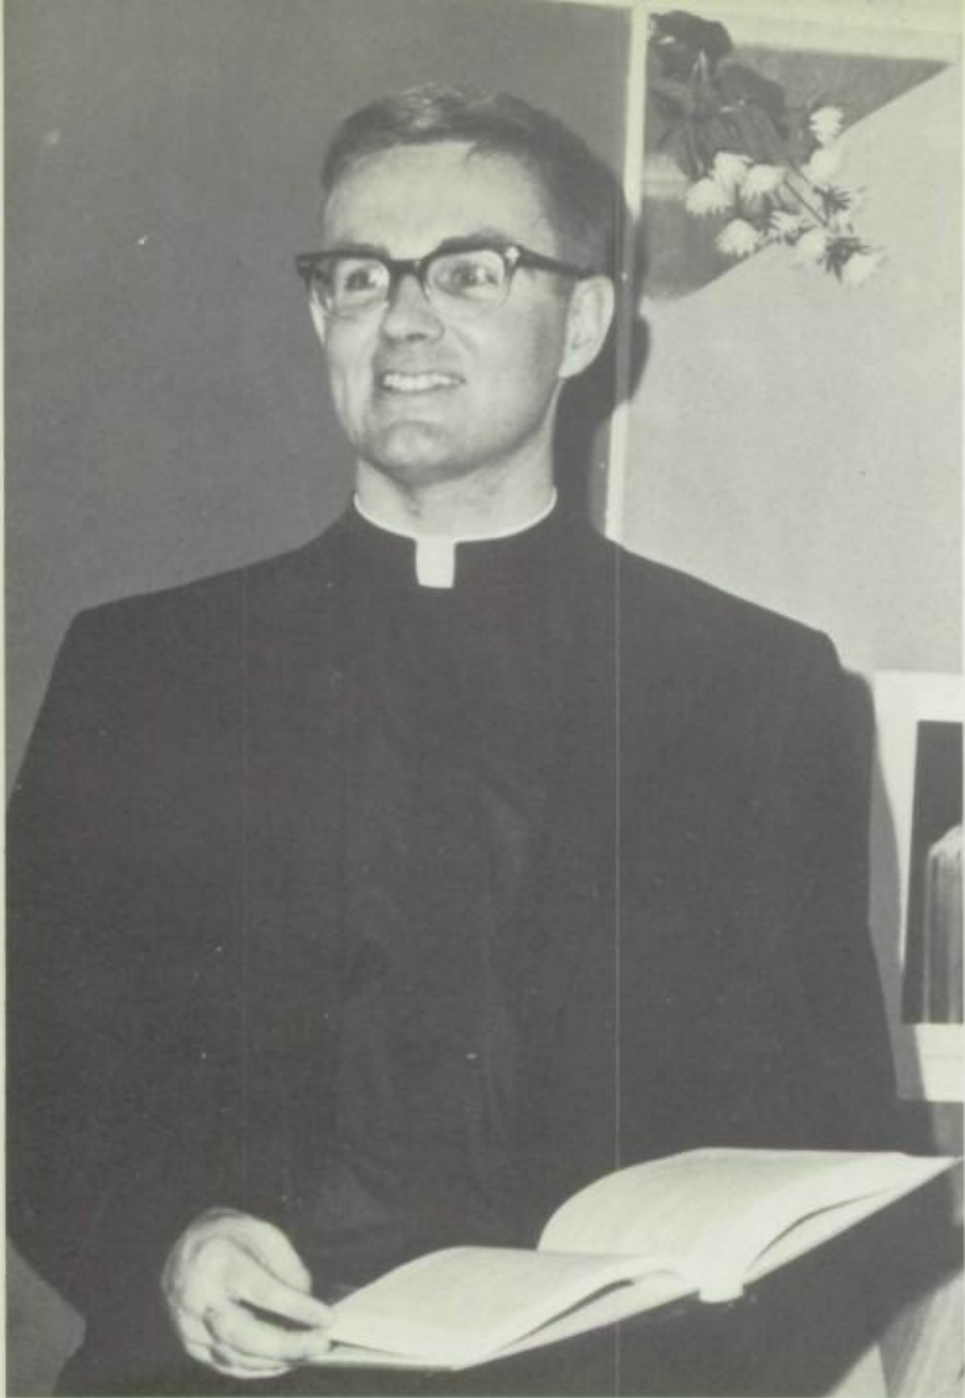

Father Mackin presides over Nancy's memorial Mass.

FACULTY

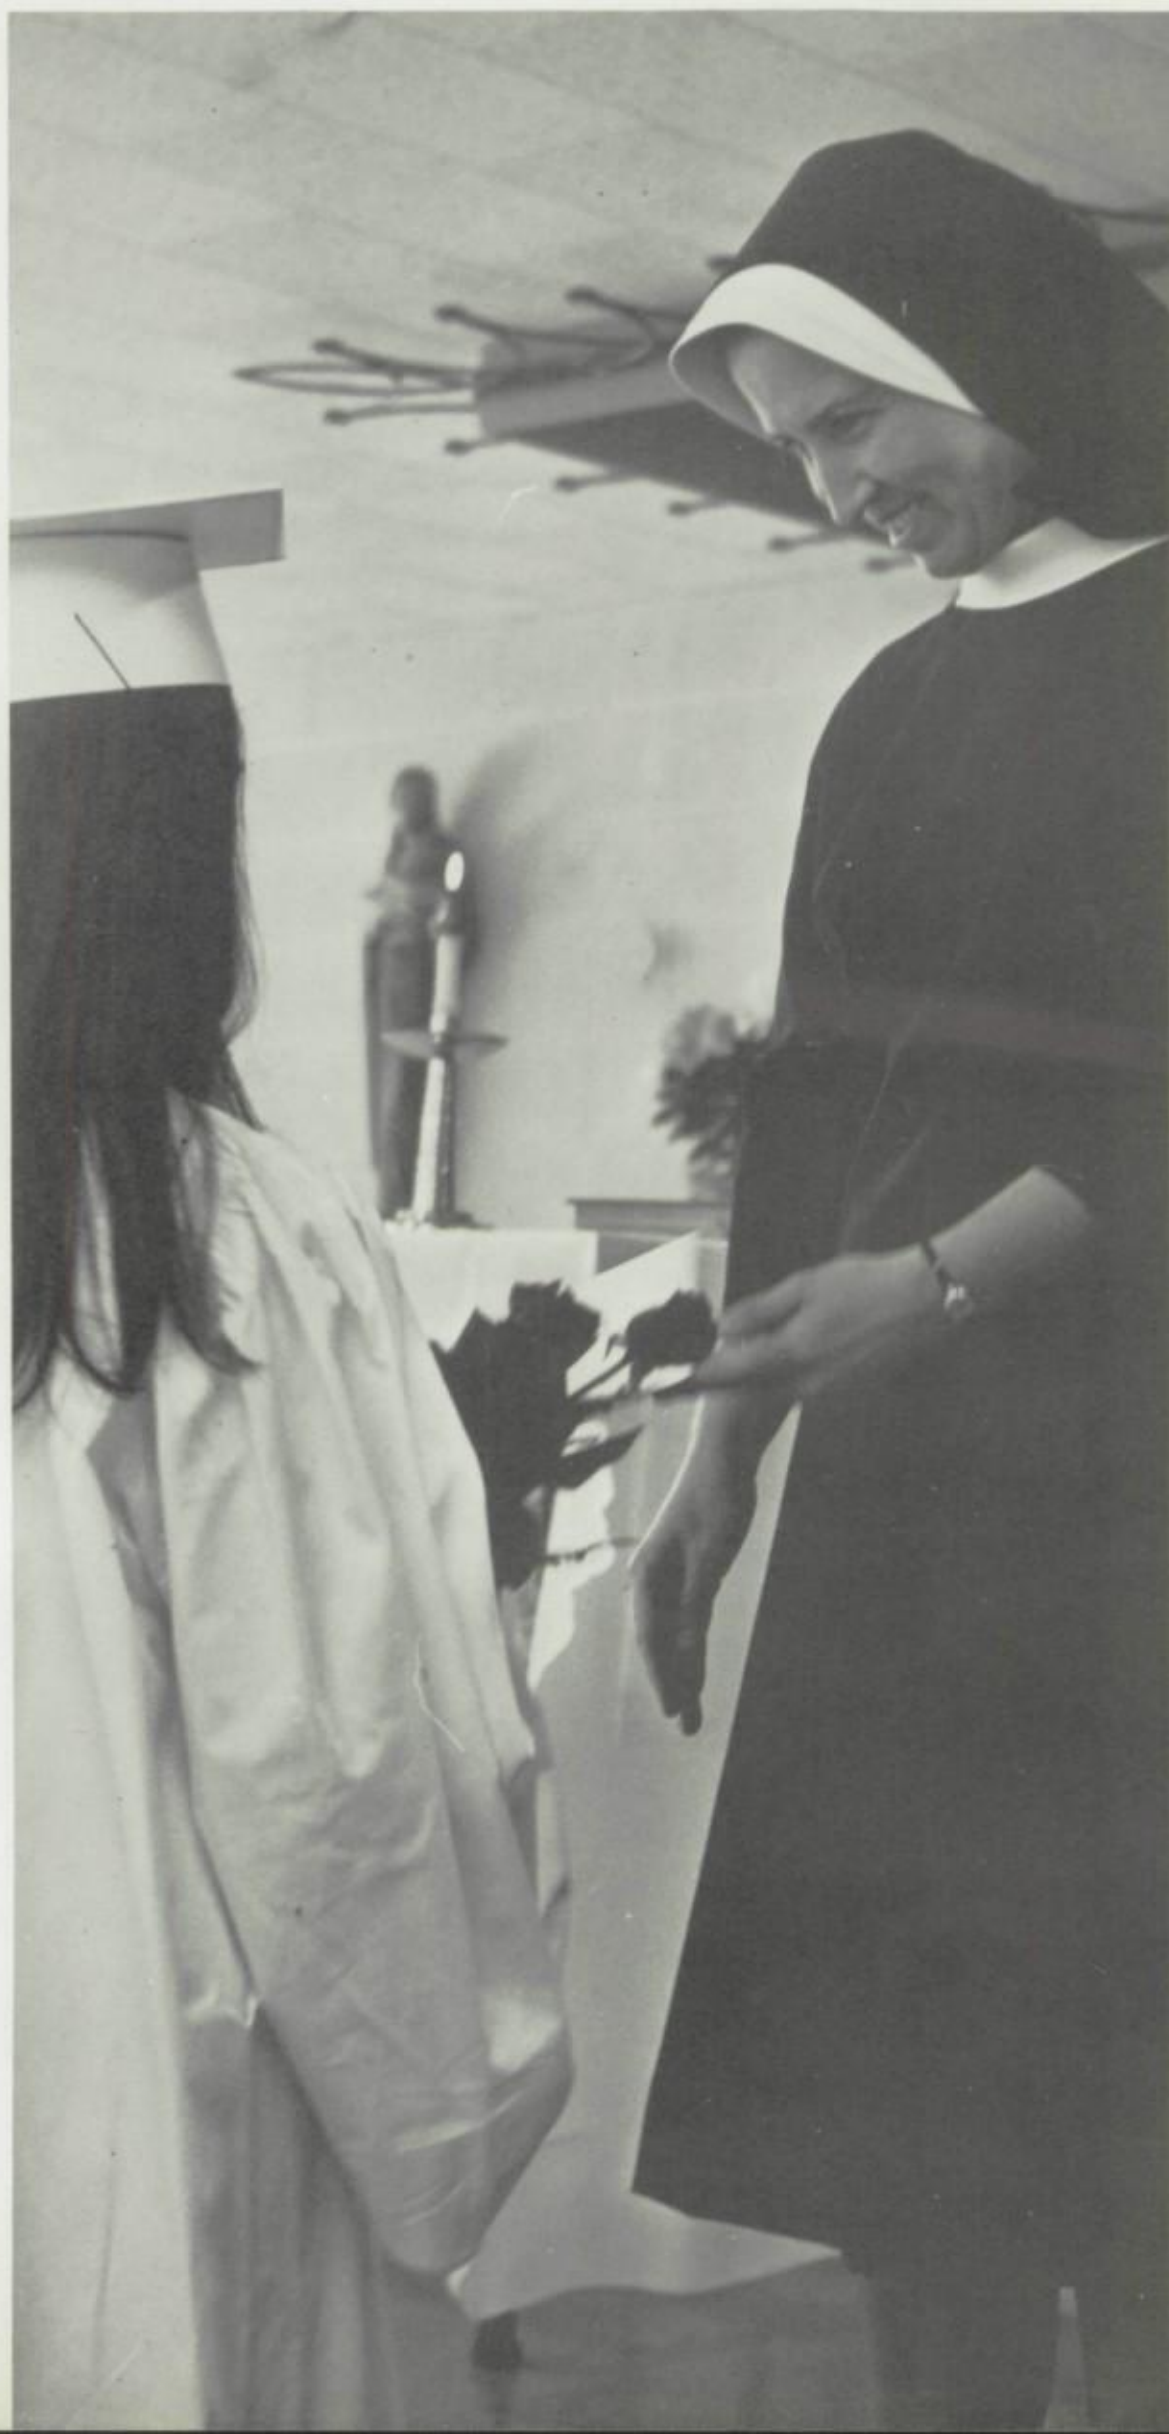

Faculty Moves Forward

Sister Claudia Klyn,
Principal

There were so many things to be done this year —so many bridges to be built. Someone had to take that first step, and along with it an inevitable risk. Beaumont found a more-than-willing leader in its new principal, Sister Claudia Klyn. She was young, brilliant, and vibrantly alive. She took Beaumont by the hand and leaped forward in administration, school unity, and administration — student communications. She was a bridge-between the old and the new, the faculty and the students, the present and the future.

CURRICULUM

The school year 1969-1970 at Beaumont was the scene of many curriculum changes. Under the leadership of a new principal, Sister Claudia Klyn, faculty and students together forged ahead in their pursuit of knowledge. typing, senior swimming, Advanced Biology-Chemistry, and a Junior English program similar to that of the seniors were among the new courses that were offered. School began earlier — 8:25 — and homeroom periods were scheduled, for the most part, in the half-hour before or after lunch.

It was a year of rapid growth — not only in the basic curriculum program, but in the relationships among administration, faculty, and students. It was a year of bridge-building for all.

A guest speaker addresses a class on Crisis in Environment Day.

Terri Thompson and her lab partner are engrossed in the study of the crayfish.

Juniors enjoy a rousing game of basketball.

Sophomores observe the new computer terminal.

Roger Steffens presents a program of poetry for the entire school.

Mrs. Nolan sets the example for her

Kathy McCabe demonstrates the use of the new French tapes.

ACTIVITIES

Christmas Inspires

Marianne, Amy and Cindy look for excitement.

On your mark, get set . . .

Council, Drama Skits

Peggy's lopsided halo draws many tears.

Santa brings toys for good faculty and students.

The Littlest Angel enjoys singing with her fellow cherubs.

'Merry Christmas'

Joni Friel smiles happily after being crowned queen of the ball.

Sandy and Eddie watch the crowning.

Dorothy and her date enjoy a slow dance.

The court stands in attention, awaiting the queen's crowning.

Seniors dance and laugh in the foyer, sparked with the nostalgia of a Merry Christmas.

Rings Through Foyer

Juniors 'Celebrate'

Mary, Katie and a friend solemnly (?) observe the beginning of the crowning ceremony.

The court smiles in approval as class president Juana Breland is escorted down a flowered staircase.

Don't look now, but I think he's taking our picture.

1920 Ball At Prom

Queen Juana is crowned by her escort.

Maryann and her date sample the offerings at the refreshment table.

Shauna and her escort 'dance to the music' of the North River Street Rock Collection.

Mary Agnes leads a train of seniors and their dates.

Prom Moves

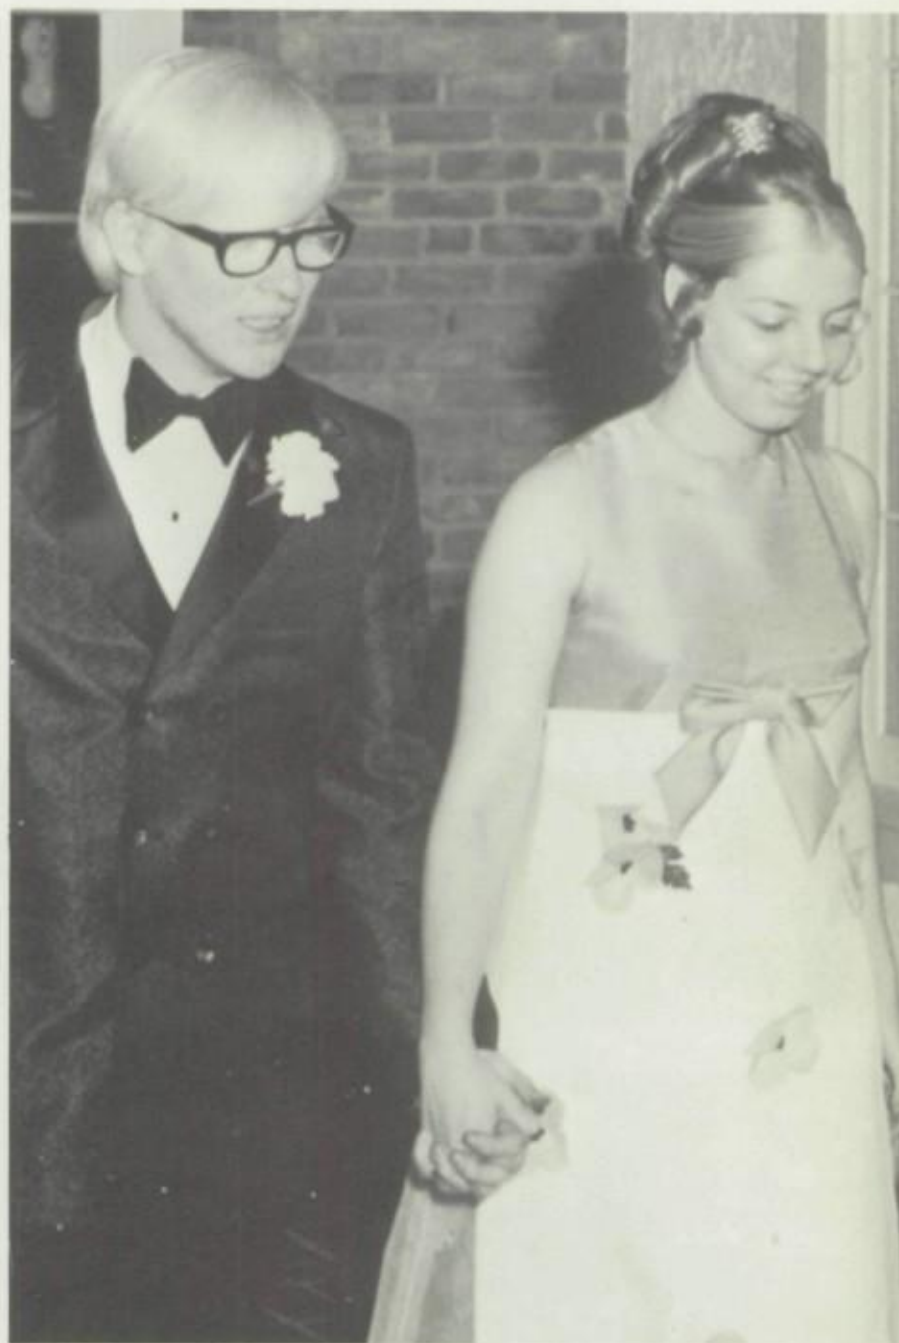

Say "Cheese."

Queen Cindy Corsaro and her escort lead the dance following the crowning.

To Inner Circle

Denise and Steve stroll through the mall.

Cindy and her date enjoy a quiet dinner.

Juniors Display Talent

Winnie and Mary discuss the drawbacks of talking to the trees.

Chris hypnotizes the audience with her glowing composition, "I Believe in Tomorrow."

Freshmen re-enact the train scene from 'The Music Man.'

Juniors Give . .

The Junior-Senior Banquet brought tears to the eyes of the members of both classes as they began to realize that the days of the class of '70 at Beaumont were drawing to a close. After a dinner, Juana Breland and Cindy Corsaro lead their classes in songs of farewell.

The Juniors and Seniors had learned much about the bridge of friendship: They didn't say "Good-by" to one another, but "I'll write to you," or "See you soon."

Juana and Cindy sing together as class presidents for the last time.

Seniors and Juniors bid a tearful farewell to one another.

. . . And Receive

Juniors proudly display their newly-acquired rings.

In a beautiful, moving ceremony, the Juniors received their rings from Student Council President Amy Dubaniewicz and Senior Class President Cindy Corsaro. They then went to the cafeteria where they were treated to cake and punch by the Senior Class.

The class marches in procession to receive their rings.

A cake given to the Juniors by the Seniors is obviously well-received.

CLUBS

Student Council Grows

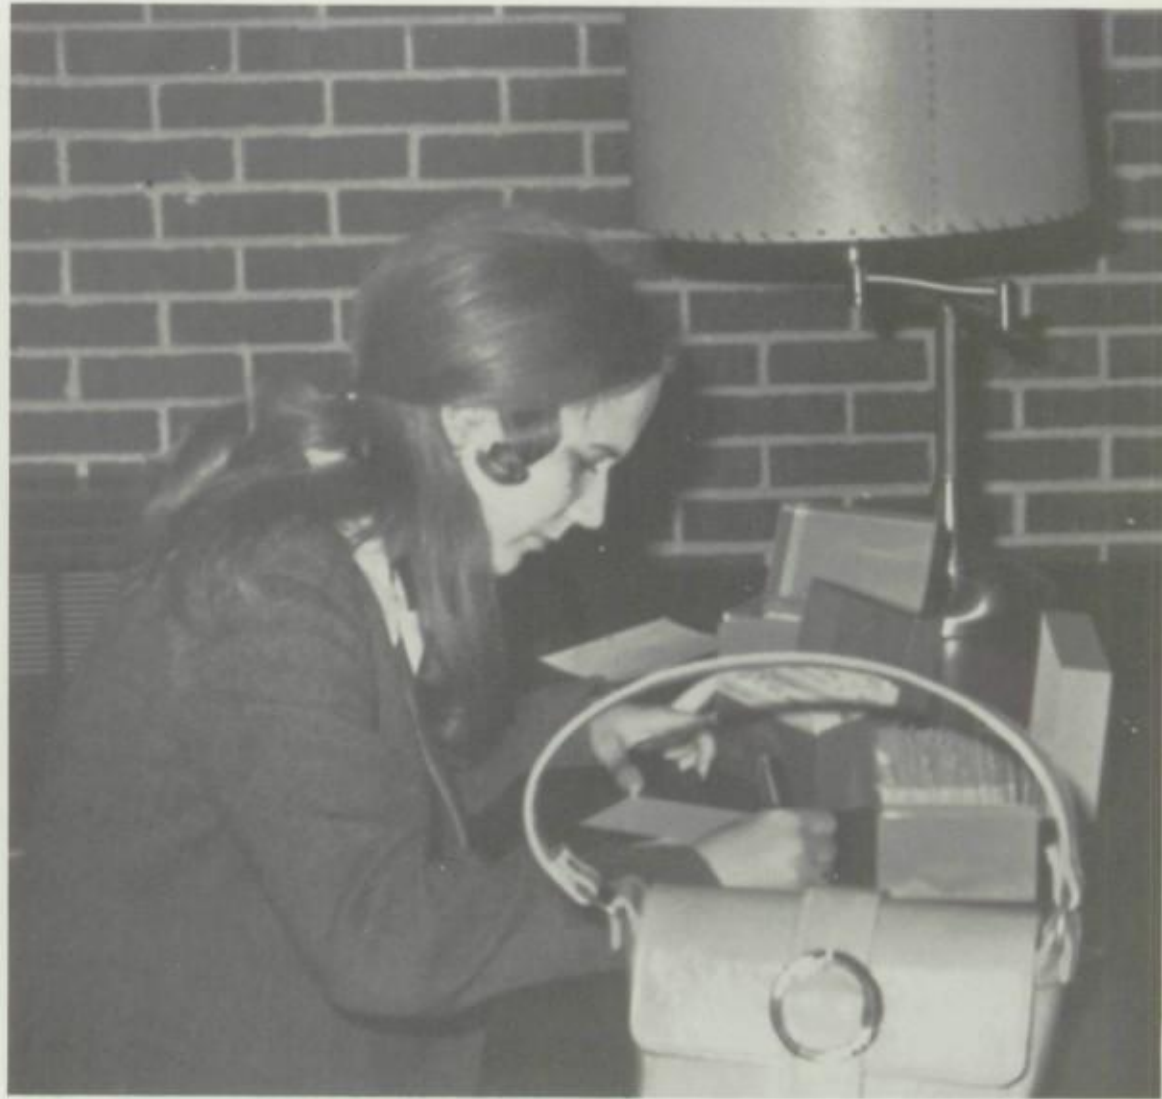

It was a "flowery" year for the 1969-70 Student Council. Everything came up tulips!

With American Heritage in mind sewing needles in hand, Student Council opened the year with a breathtaking flag ceremony.

Following along in the spirit of tradition the Christmas season seemed a lot brighter after the annual Christmas Assembly which all agreed was a great way to start the vacation.

The year ended with a tribute to Mary as Amy Dubaniewicz crowned Our Lady Queen of May in her last official act as president.

A bridge isn't built in a day, but this year's Student Council put some pieces into place, thus encouraging further progress.

Secretary Sandy Palivec busily records demerits.

for the May Crowning Ceremony

Beauty Preserved In

This year, the foyer was constantly aglow with shining creations from Beaumart. Lab students — sophomores, juniors and seniors — displayed their knowledge in silk-screen, batik, tie-dye, enamels, pottery, block prints and water and oil painting.

Five Beaumart girls were named as finalists in this year's Scholastic Art Awards presentation. Other lab students were honored in various competitions throughout the city.

The gay-splattered year was drawn to a close as Ruta Butkus and Egle Zygas were awarded certificates for achieving the highest senior grade point averages.

Study Of Fine Arts

Another opening, another show!

With a song in their hearts and a smile on their faces, the Beaumont Glee Club presented their annual Christmas Concert. Dressed in their stately red robes, they portrayed the many aspects of Christmas through different types of carols.

Along with spring came another concert; this time encouraging the audience that there is "A World of Shining Hope." Glee Club members personified this hope by visiting the Little Sisters of the Poor to lighten the spirit of the aged.

Jude takes center stage.

Wonder why they were all laughing?

Drama Club Bemoans

Miss Sonnhalter and her wandering troupe of actresses (The Beaumont Drama Club) succeeded in changing Beaumont's Gym into their own world of vaudeville as they performed another successful show, "Only an Orphan Girl." The audience was thrilled and terrified as they stepped into the life of the poor orphan girl constantly tormented by the ornery villain.

Barbershop trio sings 'Lyda Rose'.

The villain threatens to foreclose the mortgage on the Perkins' farm.

Little Miss Applegate tries to decide whether or not to disclose the hiding place of the money.

Foreign Flavor Adds

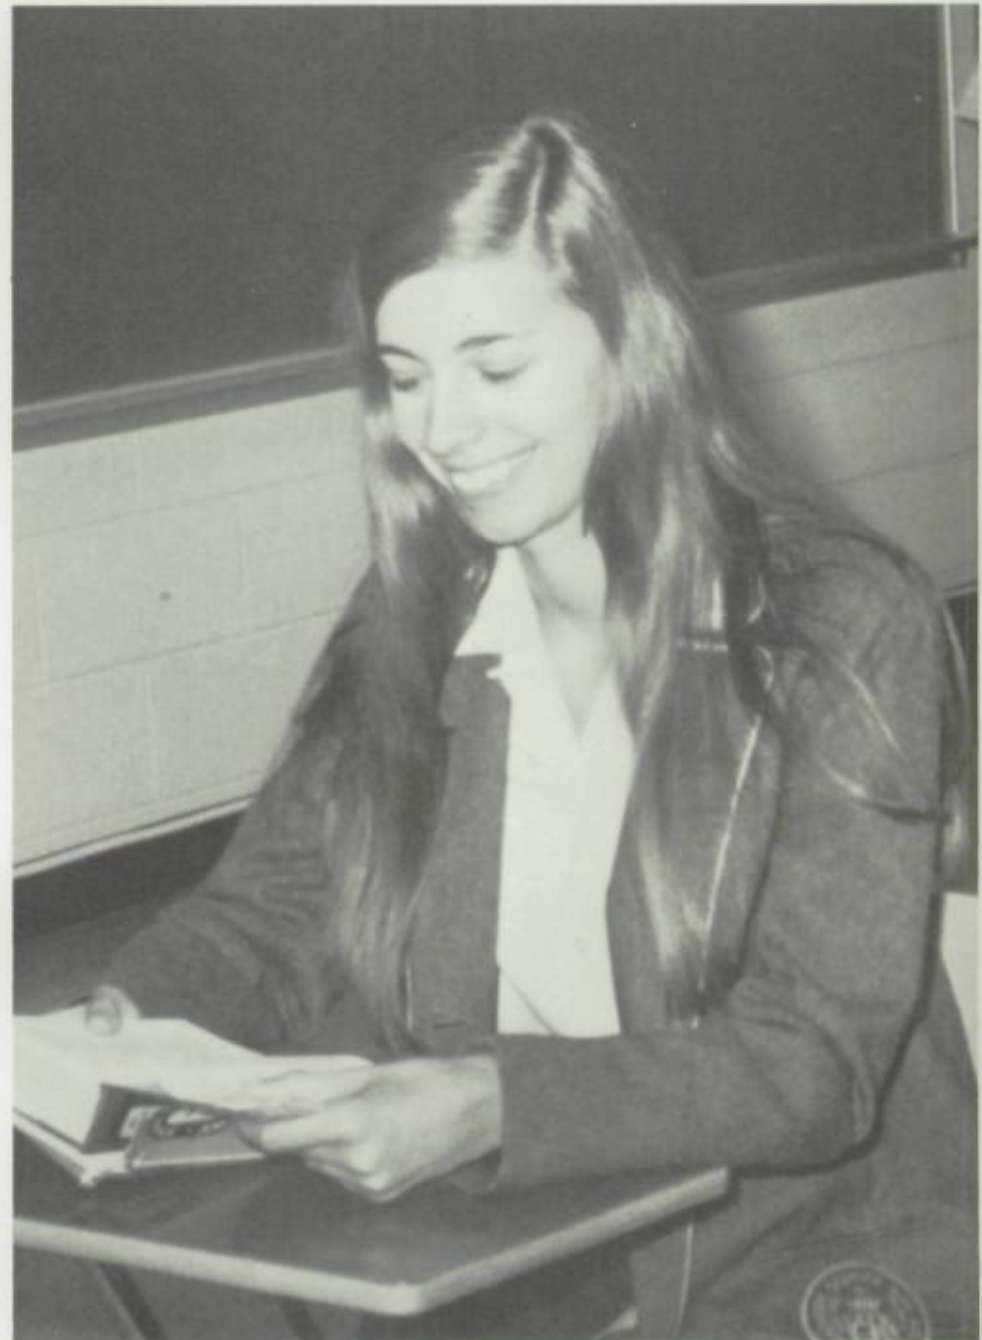

Interesting?

Temperatio alius annum hunc initiabat, 'Classical Club' sub modum splendidum Sororis Phillip Neri. Bonas magnas erat praesentiae Audrey Sharp. Gradus apud gradus, membris per ruinis Graeciae antiqui ambulaverunt et trans Mare Nostrum ad Roman, urbem aeternam.

Is it true, Jerry, that Gaul is divided into three parts?

President Audrey Sharp reads up on Virgil.

Spice Beyond Classes

Models chat before the show.

France again became a living part of Beaumont as the French Club presented the second annual 'Conge du Printemps'. With their own fashion show and boutiques the Beaumont foyer became a festive street of France, with everything from flowers to mouth watering onion soup. It was a great opening for the month of May!

Jude, Kathy and Kim entertain with French songs.

Conge-goers are bound to have a good time!

Clubs Reflect Idea Of

Thanks to the NHS, the girls at Beaumont are a little smarter'. For the second year in a row NHS sponsored a beneficial tutoring program for any interested students.

Following the course set last year by NHS, they again presented the student body with a dramatic assembly stressing the importance of involvement in each other's lives. They showed how the qualities of character, leadership, service and kindness related to each Beaumont student in her life as a "Beaumont Student."

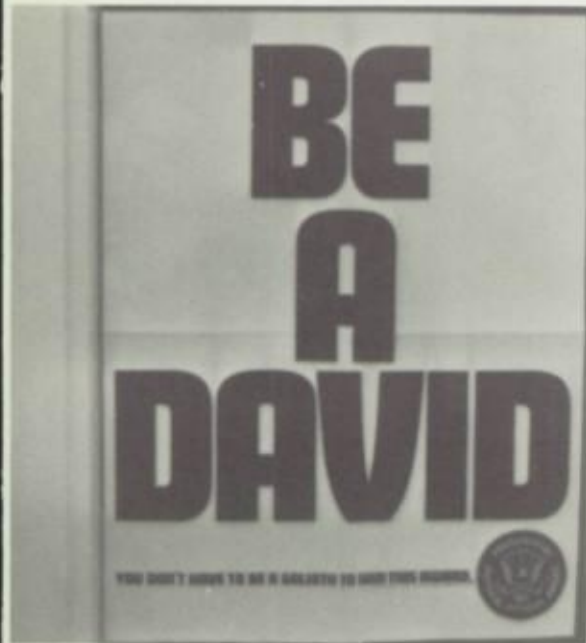

Rosemary Amato reigned as president of NHS this past year.

Norma Jean Dickey is inducted into NHS.

Brains vs. Braun

Cadets were encouraged to try for the President's Fitness Award.

This year's cadets were better than ever! As they leaped into competition with other schools they continuously came home with "that winning feeling."

The cadets also assisted Mrs. Nolan in refereeing gym classes during their study halls and at intramural games.

Alex looks up while planning club activities.

Gym classes are moderated by cadets.

Paper 'Goes Beyond Wall'

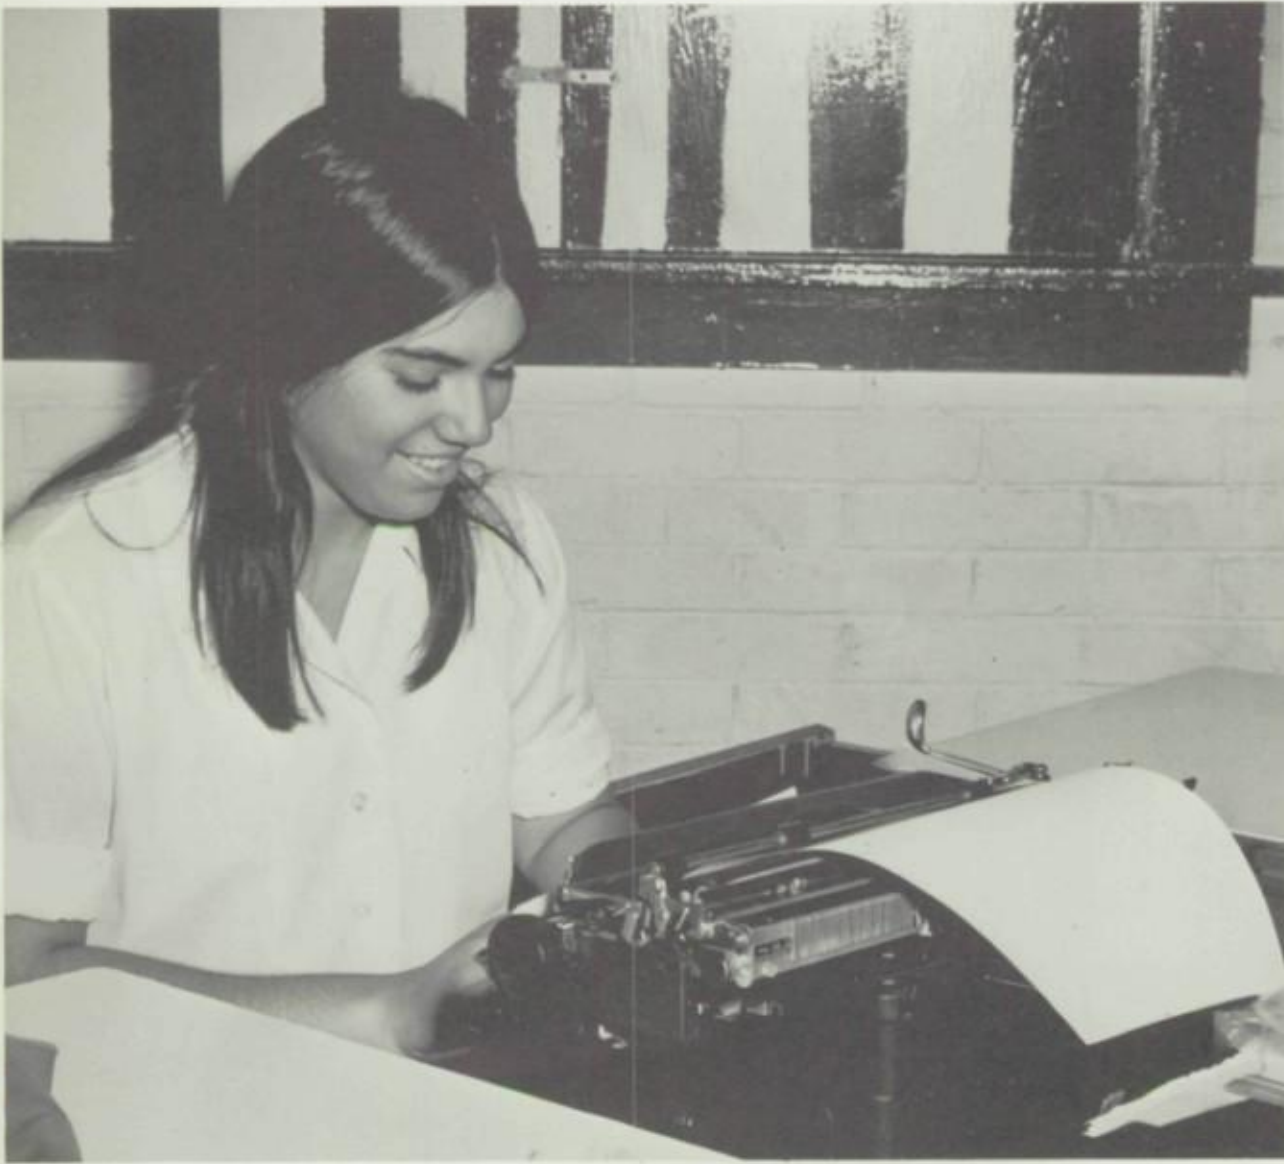

This year the school newspaper, THE WALL, changed format, paper, and printing companies in an effort to produce a meaningful and relevant publication. Articles dealt with important school matters and with pertinent issues of the world beyond the wall. Examples of these are the articles on pollution, surveys and critical analyses of writing and music. Letters to (and by) the editor increased.

Photography played an important part in the publication of the newspaper. Senior Ruta Butkus took and developed more and better pictures. At Christmas, a collage contrasting light and darkness through pictures was included in THE WALL.

Staff member Norma Jean Dickey tries to make a headline fit.

For Deeper Involvement

Mary Kay Kociancic types the final copy of her article.

Editor Kathe McHugh reads a rough-draft article.

Students Exercise Reading

The Library Club, headed by Mary Schwope, this year played a dynamic role in Beaumont life. In an effort to acquire more and better books for the school library, the club sponsored numerous bake sales, as well as a poster auction. The new additions to the library have inspired many girls to read much more frequently.

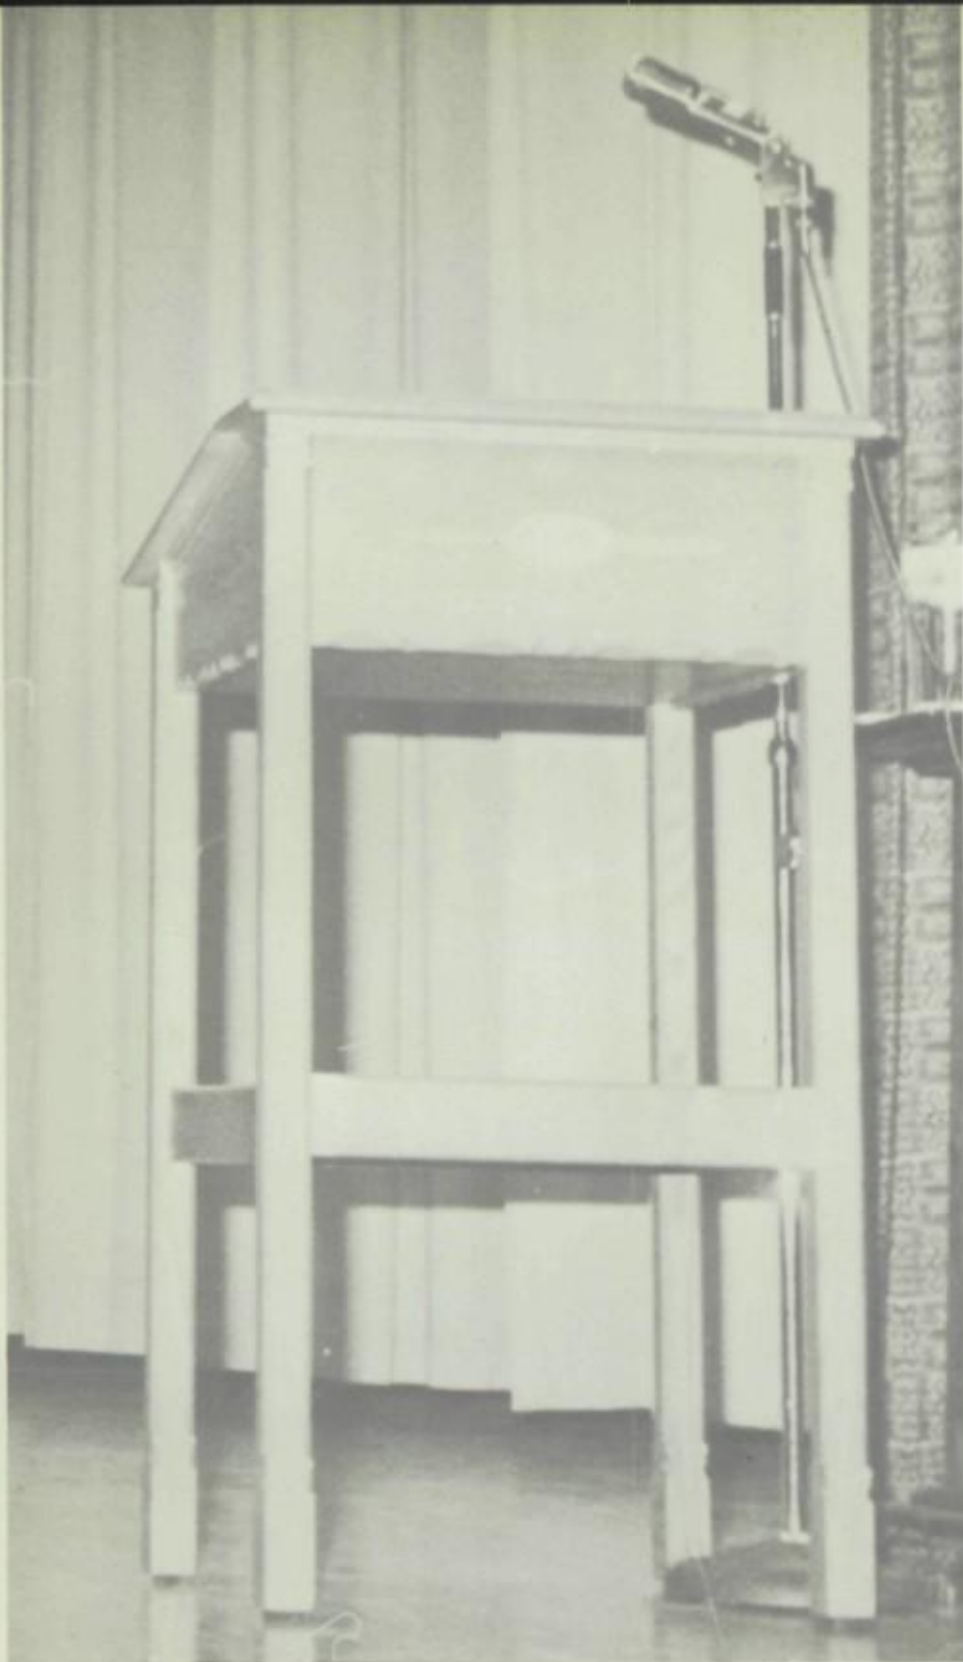

Keep a library book handy!

Librarian Mrs. Bernauer Checks out books.

Club president Mary Schwope demonstrates the art of book-stacking.

One minute to debate-time!

One of the main purposes of a school is to teach its students to form ideas, to present them, and, if necessary, to defend them with efficiency and objectivity. THE Speech and Debate Club plays an important role in Beaumont by focusing directly on this goal. Through Debates, both here and at other schools, Beaumont girls have gained maturity and an awareness of the world.

Speaking Talent

Treasurer Adrianne Senft sighs in relief after completing a successful debate.

Scientific, Educational

Mankind always searches for more and this is exactly what the Beaumont Academy of Science did this year. It played its role in our ever-changing world by taking the time to 'search for the answer.' Through field trips, guest speakers and independent studies they became more aware of the scientific world around them.

President Ginny Csider pauses before a meeting.

Are you sure that won't explode?

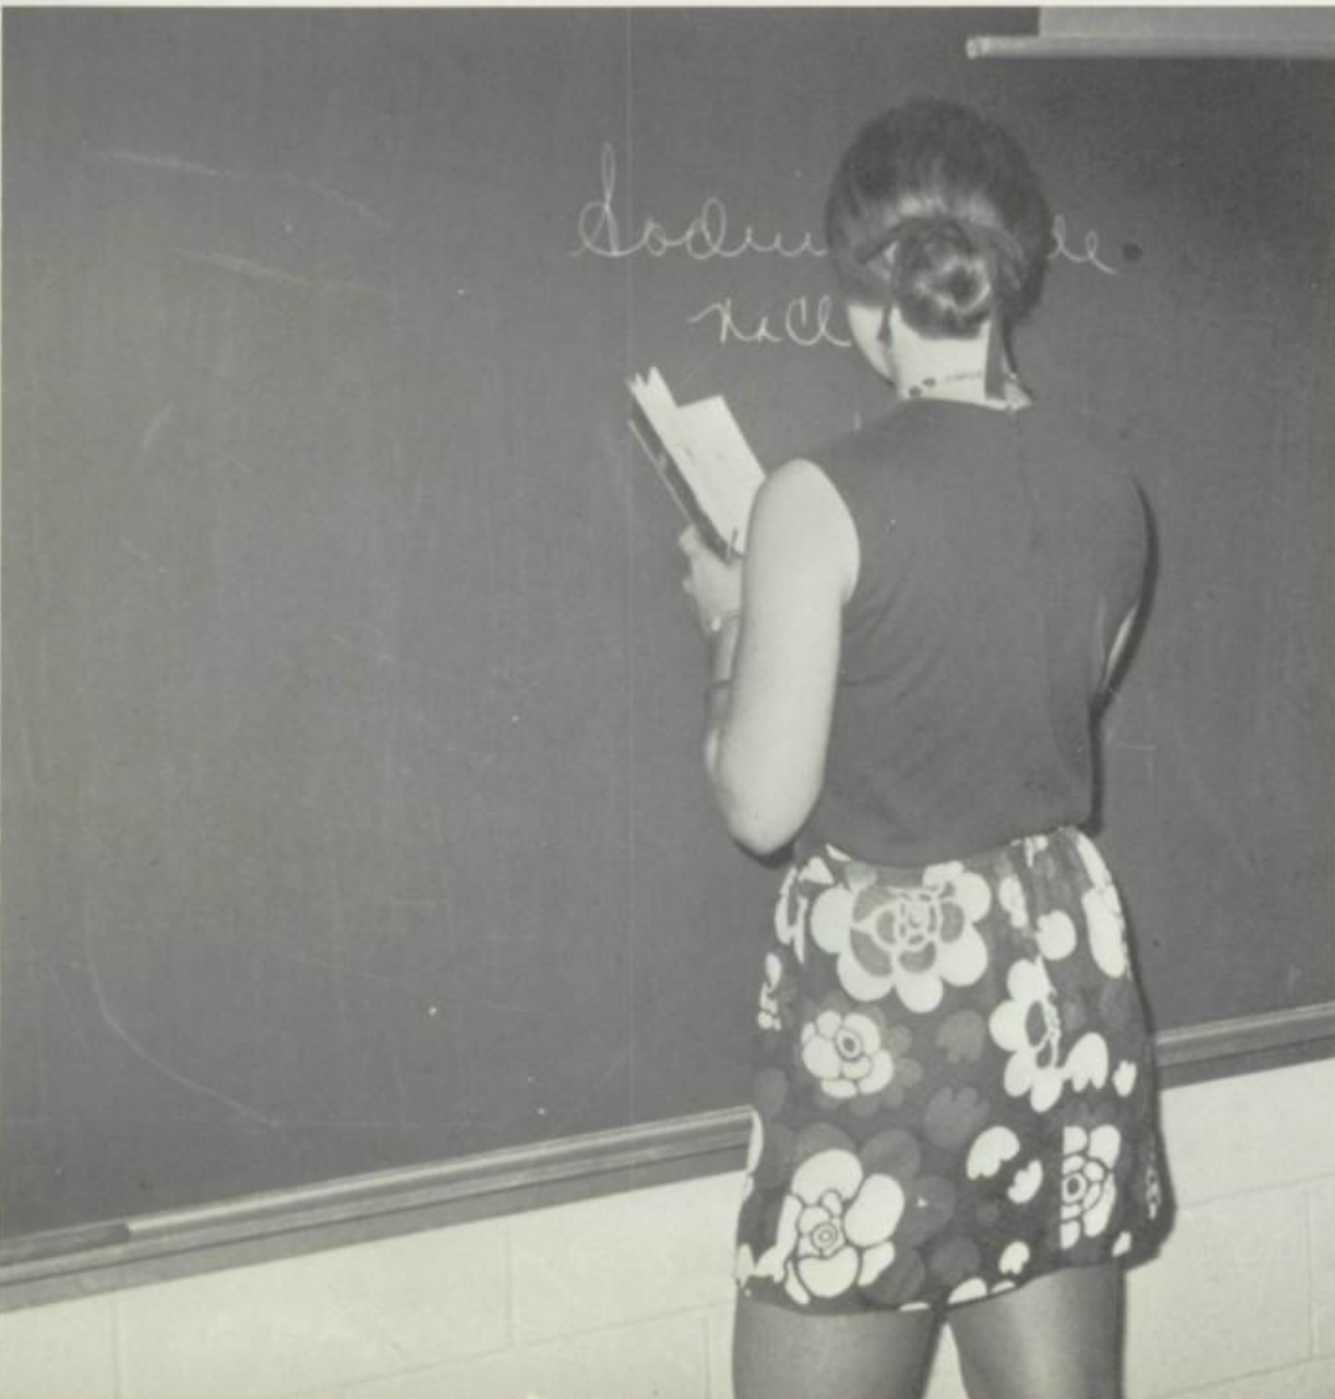

Processes Intrigue Girls

Moderator Sister Mary of the Angels plans a meeting.

Girls yearning to sit on 'the other side of the desk' had the opportunity to do so this year as members of the Future Teachers of America.

Under the guidance of Sister Mary of the Angels and Donna Zachary, FTA members planned an Appreciation Day for the faculty. They made 'corsages' for all teachers, set up displays, and taught various classes during the day. The girls benefited greatly from this experience, and learned that standing in front of a class isn't as easy as it looks.

A club member teaches a class on Faculty Appreciation Day.

Girls Learn To "Reach Out"

This year the Red Cross again took time to visit the mentally ill and cheer up their Sunday afternoons with cards and bingo games. Keeping the needy in mind, the Red Cross also sponsored a clothing and soup drive which was a success.

Red Cross members get ready to visit Cleveland State Hospital.

Sister Karen acted as Red Cross Moderator this year.

In Red Cross, CSMC

President Mary Kay Kociancic discusses financial aspects of the club.

Thanks to the CSMC, Beaumont girls came to know and love 'turtles'. Yes, their annual candy drive was a milk-chocolate success.

The 1969-1970 CSMC also took time out to make social problems of America known to the student body. Through their efforts we all became a little more aware of the world outside the wall.

Secretary-Treasurer Kathy McCabe reads excerpts from scripture for the induction ceremony.

Parents, Alumnae Work

The Mothers' Guild, Fathers' Club and Alumnae have always attempted to 'make life a little easier' for the Beaumont girl. This year all three organizations, under the leadership respectively of Mrs. Eugene Carroll, Mr. George Blatt and Mrs. Charles Ford, made giant strides toward their goals.

The Mothers' Guild sponsored a Mother-Daughter Communion Breakfast, a twilight retreat, a farewell for the senior class, and, with the Alumnae, shared the co-sponsorship of Beaumont's annual Garden Party.

The Fathers' Club marched towards their goals through their many successful activities, including a car raffle, a wine festival, and a dinner dance.

The Alumnae members received much support in their work. They held the annual Alumnae Breakfast and a farewell tea for the seniors, as well as many other lovely affairs.

This picture is dedicated to Sister Mary (She'll understand)

It's been a year to remember. There were times that were hard — there were things that hurt. But we had each other — we knew that everything would work out fine.

So many beautiful memories — Tip-T-T-Top Twin Treats . . .
Loony Tick . . . Balloons . . . Running from the Pub to the school in the pouring rain . . . The sock hop (?) . . . our 'trusty' camera
. . . "Okey-Dokey-Stokey" . . . "Happy Parapet."

Thanks,

The Parapet Staff
